Chinese Women Are For Reform

Female Organizers Here to Enlist
Efforts of Countrywomen
In Worthy Cause.

As a result of the visit of the delegation of Chinese reformers to Astoria the Chinese population of this city is pretty thoroughly organized into reform organizations and Astoria's Chinese are not reformers in name only; they are enthusiastic. They believe in reform in their native land. They give liberally of their money for the cause and enlist the women in the work.

Since the address of the officers of the reform society on Friday night $15.00 has been subscribed to the cause. Ah Yung, Wah Sing and Kung Wing gave $10.00 each. Leong Yip gave $5.00 and a number subscribed $3.00 and $2.00 each. Prof. Leong Kai Chou, vice-president, and Poy Chee, secretary of the Chinese Reform Association, returned to Portland on Sunday. Miss Kong Tung Bao, the 17-year-old daughter of the president of the Association, and Miss Lao Yak Lon of Seattle and Yip Mei Yung of Vancouver, B. C., aged 14 and 15 respectively, remained over Sunday and on Sunday night Miss Kong Tung Bao organized a woman's reform society. There are only 10 Chinese women in Astoria at present but they, with their children, made an enthusiastic audience as well as hostesses for Miss Kong Tung Bao and her companions.

Miss Bao lectured to the women at a residence on Bond street on the conditions in China and the purpose of the reform movement, after which the local Chinese banqueted their guests. It was a sumptuous spread and the entire assemblage was seated at the large round table when through the courtesy of Kung Wing and Ah Yung a representative of The Astorian was ushered in. There was a harmony of color on the decorated Chinese of the feast board that would please the eye of any American caterer. The menu—it was Chinese.

It is with some effort Miss Kong Tung Bao speaks English, though her companions talk fluently in the English language. The former has been in this country but a few weeks. She landed at New Westminster, B. C., from Canton, and after making one of two other short stops in British Columbia, came on to Seattle, Portland and Astoria. "We want the emperor restored," she said. "He is the best ruler we have. He is not. We will make appeal to the dowager, and if she grants our request all China will progress. If she does not, then war." Though enthusiastic in the cause, Miss Bao favors attaining reform through peaceful measures. So thoroughly convinced is she that the throwing off of old Chinese customs and adopting the progressive measures of modern times is for the best interest of her people that she believes all that is needed to make her people see as she sees is education. Wherever she goes she encourages education among the Chinese. Through her influence Miss Yip Mei Yung and Miss Lao Yak Lon, her traveling companions are going east this fall to enter college. They are content to teach English in Chinese schools now.

The empress dowager is now 70 years old and the imprisoned exponent of reform, the emperor, is 32. The severities practiced by the dowager on the reformers are against the probability of her abdicating the throne or granting reform looking to the release of the young emperor. But Miss Bao thinks the dowager could safely entrust her fate to her party, for she says: "The privilege of caring for and honoring the aged dowager, we should consider an honor to ourselves."

HONOR FOR SENATOR FULTON

Astoria Elks to Present Him With Life Membership Card

At tonight's meeting of Astoria lodge of Elks, United States Senator Charles William Fulton will be presented with a life membership card, an honor that has only once previously been conferred by the local lodge of Elks. Senator Fulton has long been a member of the order and he is a past exalted ruler. His nearest friends are Elks, and when he was elected to the national senate the life membership was voted him. The card arrived yesterday.

The presentation speech will be made by Exalted Ruler F. C. Fox, and members will turn out in mass to join in honoring Senator Fulton.

The only other Astoria Elk thus honored is Duncan McTavish, now a resident of Dawson, N. W. T. McTavish was long held in high esteem by the Elks, and when he came back from Alaska on a visit two years ago life membership was voted him. The presentation was, perhaps, the most touching incident in the history of Astoria lodge of Elks. It is needless to add that tonight's presentation will be of interest to members.

JEWISH NEW YEAR

Today is Jewish New Year, or Rosh Hashonah, the beginning of the year 5664. The observance is confined to one day by the reform Jews, while the orthodox Hebrews will have a 10-day festival. Yom Kippur comes on October 1 and the Feast of Tabernacle on October 6.

FUNERAL OF MRS. J. T. ROSS

Interment Held Yesterday at Greenwood Cemetery.

Hundreds of sorrowing friends gathered yesterday at the family residence to pay their last tribute to the memory of Mrs. J. T. Ross. Floral pieces by the score were sent to the home by admirers of the brilliant woman whose death is so genuinely mourned and the casket was beautifully bedecked.

Funeral services at the residence were conducted by the Rev. Henry Marcott, of the First Presbyterian church, while hymns were rendered by a quartette composed of Mrs. F. J. Taylor, soprano; Mrs. MacKenzie, contralto; Mr. W. H. Barker, tenor, and Mr. John Garner, basso.

The pallbearers were Messrs. J. E. Higgins, E. Z. Ferguson, D. M. Stuart, H. C. Thompson, Frank Gerdes and George W. Green.

The interment was held at Greenwood cemetery, and many friends followed the remains to the grave, where hymns were rendered by the male quartette which Mrs. Ross had drilled during the past year—William F. Gratke, James Johnson, T. D. Ferguson and Frank Carnahan.

PASSING OF PIONEER WOMAN

Miss Olivia Elliott Dies at Advanced Age of 94.

Miss Olivia Elliott died at her home on Fifteenth street, between Franklin avenue and Exchange street, at noon Sunday in her 94th year. Miss Elliott was one of Clatsop's pioneer women, having lived here over half a century. She was a native of Virginia and was born in October of the year 1809. She crossed the plains with John M. Shively and Mrs. Shively, her sister, in 1848, and in the same year located in Astoria where she passed the remainder of her life. The funeral services, under the auspices of the Oregon Pioneer and Historical Association, will be held today in Grace Episcopal church at 1:30 p. m. She was one of the oldest, if not the oldest woman in the county. For many years Miss Elliott had been an invalid and was very seldom seen away from her home.

THE DANCING SCHOOL

Last night the dancing academy was opened by Prof. H. W. Dennis at Hawthorn's hall and quite an assemblage of pupils was present. Next Saturday afternoon the class of juveniles, from 2 to 4, will begin. On Saturday evening, from 7:30 to 9, a class of adults will occupy the floor, and from 9 to 12 the "social" will hold forth. Last Saturday evening a charge of 50 cents per couple was made, but next Saturday, in deference to the prevailing custom, ladies will be admitted free, gentlemen being charged the usual price, 50 cents. Inquiries by mail regarding any lessons, private or public, should be addressed to H. W. Dennis, "The Astorian," City.

ELKS TAKE NOTICE!

That a regular session of Astoria lodge, No. 180, B. P. O. Elks, will be held this (Tuesday) evening at Elks' hall.

There will be initiation, and the formal presentation of the life membership card to Brother C. W. Fulton will take place.

All members are requested to be present.

F. C. FOX, Exalted Ruler.

F. J. CARNAY, Secretary.

STAG SOCIAL TONIGHT.

A stag social will be given this evening by the Scandinavian Benevolent Society. Only members of the order will be invited to take part. Extensive preparations have been made for the event, which promises to be quite successful. During the evening a banquet will be served. The social will take place at Pythian castle.

WHAT IS LIFE?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in constipation, headache or liver trouble. Dr. King's new life pills quickly re-adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at Chas. Rogers' drug store.

Threw Acid On Valuable Dog

"Printer Boy," Famous Pointer
Probably Ruined for Life by an Engineer.

Because Printer Boy, the most valuable pointer dog in the West, ran into a shed at the Lindenberg cold storage plant, Sunday, Arthur Scoggins, a young man employed at the plant as engineer, threw acid on the dog and probably ruined him for life. The dog is receiving every possible attention, but those who are caring for him believe he will never fully recover from the burns caused by the acid.

Printer Boy is known to all the dog lovers of the country. He is 7 years old and in past years has always carried off first honors in his class at the bench shows. He is the father of nearly all the fine pointers in the Northwest and his owner, N. D. Bain, of this city, values him at $1000. He was formerly owned by Attorney Gibson, of Baker City.

On Sunday the dog was out for exercise in charge of George Morgenthau. In passing the Lindenberg cold storage the dog ran into a shed where are kept a number of St. Bernard dogs. According to the complaint filed against the man, Scoggins deliberately threw a canful of acid on the dog, filling its eyes and burning its body in a frightful manner. Cried with pain, Printer Boy rushed frantically about, colliding with lumber piles, and it was some time before he could be secured. He was placed in charge of Edward Lewellyn, driver of No. 1 hose wagon, and is now being cared for at the engine house. The acid has terribly injured the dog. The left eye has been burned out, and the right eye is so badly burned that its sight will probably be ruined. The dog's flanks are also burned and his suffering is so great that it is almost impossible to move him. Fear is entertained that he may die.

Scoggins was arrested for the crime, charged with malicious injury to property, and was arraigned yesterday before Justice Goodman. He was released on $100 cash bonds to appear today for preliminary hearing. The charge is sworn to by Morgenthau. The crime is felony, and if it is shown today that Scoggins is guilty as charged, he will be bound over for trial in the circuit court.

Mr. Bain is at present out of the city and does not know of the accident to his dog. His friends bitterly denounce Scoggins for his treatment of Printer Boy and it is said the case against him will be vigorously prosecuted.

POOL TAX LAW IS REPEALED

License Wiped Out By Council at Last Night's Session.

Last night's meeting of the council was given up largely to discussion of the regulations governing teams, and before the session was concluded City Attorney Smith was instructed to prepare a new ordinance covering the matter. In East Astoria a few days ago a child was killed while attempting to board a wagon that was being trailed behind another vehicle. The accident brought to the attention of the council the necessity for new regulations, and considerable discussion ensued. Members pointed out that the practice of trailing wagons was a dangerous one, liable to result in accident at any time, and it was agreed that the practice should be prohibited by law. City Attorney Smith will draw up the measure for presentation at the next meeting of the council.

The ordinance repealing the pool tax license law was passed last night. The saloon men who have pool tables maintain that the license is an injustice, for the reason that no revenue is derived from them. Mayor Suprenant strongly objected to repeal of the license law, contending that, while it might be unjust to levy this license, the precedent of repealing revenue measures was a bad one to set at this time. The council took a different view of the matter, however, and the ordinance was repealed.

On the recommendation of City Surveyor Tee, the council ordered alteration of the grades of Commercial street, Franklin avenue and Forty-fourth street, in the East End.

No new ordinances were offered, nor was the plumbing ordinance called up last night.

COUNTY COURT ADJOURNS.

The county court was in session yesterday, when several matters affecting the roads of the county were disposed of. Bids for clearing the Elk creek toll road were opened and the contract was awarded to W. A. Goodin. The offers for clearing each acre were as follows: W. A. Goodin, $97; C. W. Camahan, $115; Joseph Schamberger, $106.50. The work must be completed by February 15, 1904, and the contractor was required to post a bond of $1000. The court received from A. M. McDonald, of Westport, a claim for $150 damages for injuries alleged to have been suffered on the county road at Westport. The claim was not allowed. The court awarded to Ferguson & Houston the contract for the construction of the keeper's house at the Lewis and Clark bridge, at a cost of $775. Location of the dwelling has been left to Judge Trenchard. The court adjourned for the term.

ACCIDENT AT BOX FACTORY.
A singular accident, and one that might have been attended with very serious consequences, occurred at the box factory of the Clatsop Mill Company Saturday night. The men were engaged in running railroad ties through a large planer, into the pulleys of which the singletree attached to the harness of a horse was accidentally placed. As the pulleys revolved there was a scattering of pieces of iron that miraculously flew wild of the dozen men at work near the planer. Even the horse escaped injury. The planer lost eight pulleys, which were replaced yesterday.
